COMMUNICATED. THE RUBY RING. I wear this Ring, so fondly given, And in its pure and spotless gold, A priceless ruby hath been riven, That never shall be bought or sold,

NO. 127.

But wern till hand and heart grow cold. I wear it not as some may wear A jewel's lustrous light to deck, I know, the sparkling gem is rare, And bright the gold in which 'tis set, Like form and spirit sweetly met:

I wear it to remember me Of the kind beam in Ella's eye, And she can ne'er forgotten be. While this red light is beaming nigh, And dazzling like a starry sky. And yet, I needed not this gem,

To bid my wayward heart be true, It could not be a wanderer when Its softest chord was held by you, And pure love from its spring you dre x!

Many persons think of Hood only as a maker life forced him to the manufacture of what he could dispose of, at the highest market price -

Here is a specimen of his genuine poetry RUTH .- Br THOMAS HOOD. She stood breast-high amid the corn, Clasped by the golden light of morn, Like the sweetheart of the sun, Who many a glowing kiss had won. On her cheek an autumn flush

Deeply ripened-such a blush, In the midst of brown was born Like red poppies grown with corn. Round her eyes her tresses fell, Which were blackest none could tell, But long lashes veiled a light

Which had else been all too bright. And her hat, with shady brim, Made her tressy forehead dim-Thus she stood amid the stooks. Praising God with sweetest looks! Sure, I said. Heaven did not mean Where I reap thou shoulds't but gleam Lay thy sheaf adown and come

Share my harvest and my home.

MAN WHO TAKES KILLING KINDLY. The Friend of India tells a good story of leutenant Stewart, Deputy Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs in Bengal, which our contemporary says ought to be true, if it is not. It seems that this officer, whose services during the mutiny are not recognized by the public, has two somewhat eccentric habits. One is that of travelling so fast that it style. The necessary arrangements of this tasks his telegraph to record his progress, new establishment being now complete, and the and the other of getting nearly killed co operation of one of the best Dyers, (Mons. About once in every three months Lieutenant SIGOD, from Lyons, France, who has been for Stewart is sure to turn up in the papers cara series of years toremen in the well renowned ried away by a tiger, or ripped up by a bear, Staten Island Dyeing Establishment in New or dying of the cholera, or doing something York.) being constantly secured, all work will from which only men of India-rubber ever be done in the very best manner--will meet with prompt dispatch and will give satisfection where it is easiest to get killed, he has gone in every respect to those that will honor the un- to Lucknow. Permission was given somewhat reluctantly, and the Governor-General telegraphed to the Commander-in Chief that Lieutenant Stewart was not to be killed. Sir ceived at P.
